ST FRANCIS OF ASSISI CATHOLIC COMMUNITY

Contemplation | Fraternity | Mission

Sunday 1st October 2017
Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time - Year A

"AMEN, I SAY TO YOU, TAX COLLECTORS AND PROSTITUTES ARE ENTERING THE KINGDOM OF GOD BEFORE YOU"

Jesus confronted the hypocritical religious leaders with a parable of two sons, one who gave lip-service to his father, and the other who repented of his disobedience. The parable teaches us that promises can never take the place of performance. The son who said he would go, and did not, were like the religious leaders who claimed to be doing God's will but acted otherwise. The tax-collectors and the harlots were those who said that they would go their own way and then took God's way. The religious authorities held "tax collectors and prostitutes" in contempt because they did not obey God. Yet when these outcasts of society heard John's message of repentance, they reformed their lives. In contrast, the leaders of God's people stubbornly refused to believe Jesus' way of righteousness, and did not change their lives. Because they rejected God's plan for salvation, they forfeited their place in God's reign. The ideal son or daughter is the one who accepts the father's orders with obedience and fully carries them out.
